Parents of children ages 3-5 are taught to be their children's first teacher and school readiness skills. Referrals, pre- and post-program testing and health screenings also contribute to the effectiveness of the Program. Spanish speaking staff is available
14. Legal	Catholic Charities of West TN	Immigration Services	Chris Butson	901.722.4730	chris.butson@acc.cdom.org	Direct immigration services are targeted to low-income immigrants and their families. Our Immigration Services program offers low cost, comprehensive immigration counseling services addressing our clients' basic needs, as well as their legal immigration concerns. Direct services and legal referrals are available to refugees and immigrants who reside in West Tennessee. Clients need to call or email to explain what immigration services they are seeking. If we could possibly assist them, they will make a consultation appointment. There is a nominal consultation fee at the time of the appointment with the legal representative.

14. Legal	Community Legal Center	CLC Memphis Civil Program	Tania Munoz	901.543.3395	taniam@clcmemphis.org	The Civil Program operates by first having a potential client call us and explain their case and their desired outcomes to an intake coordinator. If a client needs to be referred to a program extension, like the Elder Law Program or Pro Se Divorce Clinic, the intake coordinator directs them to these services. If a potential general civil client has a type of case that we take, that person is scheduled for an intake meeting with a staff attorney. During the meeting the client pays a low, intake fee based on family size and income and explains the elements of their case. Our staff attorneys will assist them by accepting their case (in which case we charge a low sliding scale fee) or by giving brief legal advice.
	Community Legal Center	CLC Memphis Immigrant Justice Program	Jessica Dominguez	901.543.3395	jessicad@clcmemphis.org	The Immigrant Justice Program operates by first having a potential client call us and explain their case and their desired outcomes to a bilingual intake coordinator by phone. Afterwards, if a potential client has a case that we may be able to assist with, that client is scheduled for an initial consult meeting. During the meeting the client pays a modest intake fee and meets with a staff attorney. From here one of our staff attorneys will assist them by taking their case (in which case we charge a sliding scale fee based on family size and income), or (if we cannot take the case) referring them to a private attorney. In some cases they will be referred to a pro bono attorney who can handle their case free of charge.
